In her current role as a Vice President of Product Management, her main focus is on consistently moving the Residential, Business Voice, and Unified Communications products forward through product design, development, and deployment, product lifecycle management, agile development, and team building and employee development. Charter Communications is a dynamically changing and growing environment that is rich with opportunities and challenges. The skills Holly gained in her prior experience in marketing, sales leadership, and recruiting management have helped her grow in her telecommunications career as well.

Over the last 16 years in the cable industry, Holly has excelled in her key roles. She has made many notable contributions to her industry, and along with her teams has won multiple performance awards and launched many new products, applications, and programs. She has supported and led major product development efforts, which include Business Voice, Business Trunking, Hosted Voice, Enterprise Managed Cloud, Business Wi-Fi, Guest Wi-Fi, 24-Hour Battery Backup, Call Guard, and many others. She is a patented inventor and has a second patent pending currently. She also recognizes the importance of marketing, branding, and storytelling as reflected by her experience as a spokesperson and content influencer for both internal and external branding and advertising campaigns.

But most of all, Holly is proudest of the work she does with her team and colleagues, leading and supporting them in professional development and career growth. Helping employees grow has been both invaluable and personally rewarding for Holly for she truly believes as people grow, so does the business.

Outside of work, Holly is passionate about simply spending quality time with family and close friends. She and her husband Brian love camping, travel, movies and music, and enjoy sharing those experiences with their two children J.J. and Jovie.
