

Candice works for Charter Communications overseeing key department functions including project and portfolio management, contract execution, and procurement for the Emerging Technology department. She started her career with Charter five years ago as a Program Manager and steadily rose in the ranks to Senior Director leading a team of six. Being selected as one of WICT's 2024 Leaders to Watch is the highlight of her career. It is especially meaningful as she was nominated by her team. When not at work, traveling is her primary passion followed by relaxing on an outdoor patio with her husband and Bernedoodle.
