

Valerie is a highly motivated and results-oriented leader with nearly two decades of experience in the telecommunications industry. At Comcast, she has consistently demonstrated her expertise in strategic initiatives, program management, and creating customer-centric solutions. Her ability to develop and execute strategic plans ensures projects for new and existing products, systems, and services are delivered seamlessly.

Valerie's commitment to excellence extends beyond the corporate world. She actively supports the Media+Tech Collective, a non-profit organization fostering connections within the industry while giving back to the community. Starting as the Director of Events, Valerie spearheaded successful initiatives like the annual golf tournament, innovation challenge, and industry mixers. Currently, as the Operations Manager, she oversees all operational aspects, ensuring the organization runs smoothly and efficiently in support of local charities.

Valerie's MBA in Management and Leadership from Webster University, coupled with her Project Management Certification, equips her with the strategic thinking and leadership skills needed to thrive in dynamic environments. Her ability to deliver projects on time and within budget makes her a valuable asset to any team.

Valerie's dedication to innovation, both in her professional career and through community involvement, makes her a true leader to watch. Her commitment to excellence promises continued success in driving positive change, both within the telecommunications industry and beyond.