

Shrilata (Shri) Kallurkar is proponent of putting your “money where your mouth” is and practices it every single day in her professional and personal life. She believes in using all tools and technology available judiciously to achieve success. Building trust and partnership as the best means of getting to the goals but is not afraid of making tough decisions if the need arise.

Shri has been in the technology space since 2005, with over 15 years in the telecommunication industry. She started her career in telecom in a small firm in Bangalore, India. 2024 marks her 7 years at Charter Communication where she leads a powerful team of engineers who help get video products certified and out of the door for subscriber consumption.

Shri was instrumental in helping launch Xumo and was conferred the “Forever Forward – 2023” award in recognition of her work. She was also honored with “Charter Achievement Award” in 2019.

Shri is a member of WICT and NAMIC and has a Bachelor’s degree in Electronics Engineering and a Masters in Computer science

When not working, Shri spends her time with her husband, two boys and an adorable labrador. She loves to read and go on long walks and is currently doing exploratory reading of ancient Indian Sanskrit texts
