

Shelly A. Humphreys is a technology strategic advisor and executive who thrives on unlocking long-term value from organizational or market complexity. Shelly has the rare ability to both develop and execute on technology strategy in M&A, market expansion, and large-scale network integrations.

With over 20 years of experience successfully leading complex enterprise merger integrations, organizational transformations, and enterprise technology operations, Shelly brings to bear a unique mix of executive capabilities, operational know-how, and consulting acumen. She has led strategic initiatives for Fortune 500 companies, architecting solutions at scale and driving alignment across functions and teams located around the globe.

She is a former Vice President in Network Operations at Charter Communications, a BMLI graduate, WICT Rocky Mountain Woman to Watch honoree, and former WICT Rocky Mountain Board Member. Shelly holds a Master of Telecommunications from the University of Denver and a BBA in Management Information Systems from the University of Hawai'i.